

Sheikh, Abdur-Rahmaan ibn Naasir asSa'diy, 1307AH- 1376AH

He is Abu Abd Allah, Abdur-Rahmaan ibn Naasir ibn Abd Allah ibn Naasir ibn Hamd Aal Sa'diy, from the tribe of Bani Tameem. Sheikh asSa'diy was born on the 12th of Muharram 1307AH. Despite losing his parents at a young age; the sheikh experienced a noble upbringing, having memorised the Qur'aan before reaching the age of 12. He was blessed with the opportunity to seek knowledge under the most renowned scholars during his time, and later became a great scholar himself. From amongst his many students are, Sheikh Muhammed ibn Saalih alUthaimen, Sheikh Abd Allah ibn Abdur-Rahmaan alBassaam and Sheikh Abdul-Azeez ibn Muhammed asSalmaan.

The esteemed sheikh (May Allah have mercy upon him) also authored several books dealing with the various Islamic sciences, including the famous book explaining the verses of the Qur'aan, called: 'Tayseer alKareem arRahmaan fee Tafseer kalaam alManaan', which he completed before the age of forty.

On the 23/6/1376AH the Ummah lost a great scholar with the passing of Sheikh asSa'diy in the city of 'Unayzah, Saudi Arabia. On that day crowds, of capacities never witnessed before in 'Unayzah, gathered for the funeral prayer that preceded his burial. (May Allah have mercy upon him).
